GUFFEY'S MAN WAS BADLY BEATEN.

Pennsylvania Democratic Convention Decided to Take the Lincoln Party Candidate for Governor.

The democratic state convention at Harisburg nominated the following ticket: Governor-LEWIS EMERY, Jr., of Bradord, the Lincoln party nominee

Lieutenant governor-JERE S. BLACK Auditor general-WILLIAM T. CREASY, the prohibition nominee. Secretary of internal affairs-JOHN J.

GREEN of Philadelphia. The platform deals entirely with state affairs, except one plank, which commends William J. Bryan. The committee did not go on record in favor of Bryan's nomination for President.

The Platform. The platform follows:

"The democratic party in Pennsylvania, by its representatives in convention assembled, declares:

"The public questions relating only to the future government and affecting solely the election of representatives in Congress ap-propriately belong for determination to the voters of the several congressional dis-

"We congratulate the country upon the fact that the only prominence which the present republican national administration has attained has been achieved by a feeble and pretended application of the principles enunciated by the Hon. William Jennings

Bryan, the great democratic commoner, who is now regarded as the certain successor of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency.

"We congratulate the people of Pennsylvania upon the pretended conversion of the republican organization of our state to sound and moral political describes. While sound and moral political doctrines. While the sincerity of this eleventh-hour repent-ance may well be doubted, it may at least be accepted as that tribute which hypoc-risy always pays to virtue.

"All the republican platform professes now has been consistently declared for and supported by the democracy of the state for many years.
"We, therefore, repeat the declaration of our aims and purposes when we again affirm that we stand as ever for the rule of the people, in county, state and nation as against the federated tyranny of organized greed and corrupt political and commercial manipulators."

The platform urges improved election laws; favors a "complete and rigid regulation of all corporations engaged in public service," the "prohibition of transportation by companies engaged in the mining of coal and other minerals, or the manufaccoal and other minerals, or the manufac-ture of any commodities in the transporta-tion of which they are engaged as common carriers;" denounces the giving of rebates, favors such change in the food laws "as will insure the protection of public health," and favors a "strict prohibition by civil and criminal enactment of all contributions by corporations to parties, organizations to parties, organizations, committees or individuals for political pur-

Hall Nominates Emery. Mr. Hall said in part:

"The time has come when every decent citizen, of whatever political faith, must lay aside for a time the consideration of mere party questions and join in the irresistible movement to restore our state to the position she once held and still should hold as the keystone in the arch of our imperial confederation of republics."

Mr. Hall said that for more than thirty years Mr. Emery had fought with desperate and unflagging courage the battles of the weak against the strong, the pure "No history of the Standard Oil Com-pany is complete," he continued, "nor has one ever been written without mention of enduring the presence of the caseless battle he has waged against to the present time."

"You may call him a republican or a member of the Lincoln party, or whatever you please," he continued, "but his record shows him to be an honest man, and on state issues he is a good enough democrat for me.

"In 1905 the Lincoln party indorsed the democratic nominee for state treasurer and largely contributed to democratic success. Let us be equally patriotic now and indorse their candidate for governor."

Held Three Sessions.

Emery was the choice of delegates who favor fusion with the Lincoln party on a state ticket. He was nominated on the first ballot by a vote of 261 to 60 forG. Arthur Dewalt of Lehigh county, the choice of National Committeeman James M. Guffey or Pittsburg and others who favored a straight democrat for governor.

Three sessions were held and the convention did not finish its work until 8:30 o'clock at night. After the governor had been nominated a recess was taken for two hours, during which a conference of the party leaders was held.

The conference decided on the nominations of Black and Creasy, and selected E. A. Coray, jr., of Luzerne for secretary of internal affairs, for which office he had been nominated by the Lincoln party. Mr. Coray is an independent republican and was the unsuccessful nominee for state treasurer a few years ago. Thomas J. Ryan, the leader of the Philadelphia delegation, advocated the nomination of a democrat and stampeded the convention for Green. The Lincoln party state convention will reconvene at Philadelphia July 10 to accept the declination of Rudolph Blanken-burg of Philadelphia, its candidate for fieu-tenant governor, and George W. Menrick of Tioga, candidate for auditor general. The convention is expected to fill their places with democratic nominees. The call for this convention was jessed by a significant for this convention was issued immediately after Emery was nominated by the demo

Blown From Boat by Explosion. Theodore H. Perry and Harry Rogers, two Detroit young men, had a wonderful escape from death yesterday, being blown out of their sailboat by a terrific explosion while they were sailing near Fox Island at the mouth of the Detroit river. The young men were passing a small island at the head of Fox island, the smaller island being used by a contracting firm for the storage of explosives used in dredging and blasting operations. The powder house wes wrecked and windows were broken as far away as the Canadian city of Amherstburg. Perry's clothes were entirely torn from his body by the shock and Rogers was partially disrobed, but when the two young men were taken to Amherstburg it was found that they had not sustained any serious in-

NECK-DEEP IN SAND.

Ineffectual Attempts to Rescue Victim of a Cave-In.

Jeremiah Fisher, a plumber's assistant, near Tompkinsville, Staten Island, yesterday was buried to his neck in sand and soapstone, which held him like a vise for more than stx hours. Late last night, when some progress was being made toward his rescue, he was unconscious and physicians who had been waiting hours at the spot, said he could live but little longer.

A shaft had been sunk by workmen between street car tracks on the Richmond turnpike to a depth of about twenty feet to make a connection. Fisher was at work at the bottom of the shaft making the connection, when a passing trolley car caused a mixture of sand, soapstone and clay to fall back into the excavation. Fisher shouted for help and tried to climb out, but was caught by the earth material, which rose until only his head was visible.

After workmen had tried in vain to rescue him with ropes and planks, firemen descended into the shaft, but every wouldbe rescurer sank so deeply into the shifting sand as to endanger his own life. Finally a rope was fixed about the suffering man's chest, but he could not be pulled even an inch upward. The firemen then sunk a sheathing of planks about him, but this allowed little room for work with Meantime, doctors, nurses and an ambulance had been waiting for hours to render aid. Refreshments and stimulants wer lowered to the man, but after a time he lost consciousness. A great crowd watched the work of rescue, which proceded by lantern light.

Two thousand Yale alumni sat down to the annual alumni dinner in University Hall at New Haven yesterday afternoon, at which President Hadley announced that Secretary of War William H. State Law Regarding Certificates Upheld by the Court.

The United Mine Workers of Pennsylvania won an important victory in the state supreme court yesterday when an opinion was announced holding that a certificate of qualification is required before a miner can work in the anthracite mines of the commonwealth and that two years' practical experience as an anthracite mine worker or laborer is necessary before the certificate can be obtained. The opinion affirms the Lackawanna county court and the state supreme court. The latter court, to which the case was first appealed, upheld the law in so far as a certificate should be required, but declared that section of the act which required a two years' experience in Pennsylvania mines unconstitutional because it discriminated against citizens of other states seeking em-against citizens of other states seeking employment.

The supreme court disagrees with this view and affirms the law in its entirety. The case at issue was that of the commonwealth vs. John Shaleen. The latter went to Pennsylvania from Illinois and secured employment in the anthracite region without securing a certificate. He was arrested, convicted and sentenced to an imprisonment. The sentence of the Lackawanna court will now be put into execution.

The captain, crew and one passenger were taken ashore by the life saving station. Bestgen testified that he had previously made a contribution to the republican state committee in 1903, giving the money to James B. Reynolds, then secretary of the organization. He said, when questioned, that he knew Mr. Proctor was not a mem-ber of the state committee and was willing to make it a personal matter with Senator Lodge's secretary, with whom he had many conversations about a consular appointment. Col. Thomas Taibot, chairman of the republican state committee, the second witness, did not remember whether he had received a contribution of $225 from Mr.

The statement of the court came as a surprise, for it upsets the long-established custom of making Friday "hangman's day." "My reason for fixing Monday." continued the court, "is that I think it better to have these men meet death on the day following Sunday, which is devoted to religious thought and services, as they naturally will be the about services, as they naturally will be in a better frame of mind to go to their final reck-oning on that day than any other."

Dowie Declared a Monomaniac. John Alexander Dowie yesterday at Chiago was declared by Dr. Archibald Church, an alienist, to be a monomaniac, although possessed of great mental capacity for business, in his testimony before Judge Landis in the Zion City controversy. A large hole was torn in one corner of the room. and after running across the foot of a brass bed the lightning struck the opposite wall, coming out at another point in the wall and destroying a number of pic-tures on the wall. Fortunately the room was unoccupied at the time. Dr. W. Croxall Palmer of Maple avenue was also severely stunned during the same storm and only recovered consciousness after receiving medical attention. Dr. Palmer was playing a banjo at the time, the metal base of the instrument serving as a conductor for the electrical current.

The new home of the Automobile Club on Brightwood avenue is rapidly nearing completion and will shortly be ready for occupancy. The club house is situated on the property of the Villa Flora Club on Brightwood avenue between Butternut street and Piney Branch road, and is of the bungalow type. It is constructed of Georgia pine, and when completed will cost about $3,500.

Total Cost $5,000.

The interior decorations and furnishings will be of an expensive character, which will make the total cost of the headquarters about $5,000. In addition there will be gasoline sheds, machine shops and storehouses The bungalow contains a spacious living room, ladies' and gentlemen's retiring rooms, smoking rooms and ample closets. Extending around all four sides of the building is a twelve-foot veranda, from which a most desirable view can be obtained of this broad thoroughfare.
